

EDINBURGH FRINGE PRESS RELEASE: 21 JUNE 2016
AN ALL NEW KIND OF COMEDY CONFRONTATION

Molland vs Sullivan: Freedom of Speech It's time to choose sides!

Edinburgh Fringe 2016, August 4th-28th, 20:00
Laughing Horse @ Espionage, Victoria St, Edinburgh, EH1 2EX

Think you know where you stand on Freedom of Speech?
This is the comedy show that will make you think again.

2 Comics, from 2 Continents, with 2 opposing agendas go head to head in a battle of wits.

Nothing will remain sacred when the “bombastically liberal” Rick Molland (ThreeWeeks), meets the “shamelessly shocking” Sully O'Sullivan (The Australian Times) in this stand-up comedy face off where low blows aren't just legal, they're encouraged.

Over 5 rounds of punchline pugilism Molland & Sullivan will trade joke for joke, gag for gag, argument for argument on Freedom of Speech, and at the end of it all, the audience will be the judge. It's time to choose sides!

"Hard-hitting, no-holds-barred comedy"
Edinburgh Evening News

"pricking the pomposity of the powerful... A Daily Show vibe"
Fest Magazine

“demonstrated no subject ought to be off-limits if handled intelligently and originally.”
The Scotsman
